NOTE FROM THE PASTOR:

Dear Parishioners:

Alfred Delp was born in Germany September 15, 1907. Delp was ordained a Jesuit priest in 1937. From 1939 on, he worked on the editorial staff of the Jesuit publication Stimmen der Zeit ("Voices of the Times"), until the Nazis suppressed it in April, 1941. He was then assigned as a pastor to a Munich Church, while secretly helping Jews who were escaping to Switzerland through the underground.

After the famous plot, orchestrated by Claus von Stauffenberg on July 20, 1944, to assassinate Adolf Hitler failed, Delp was arrested, even though we was not in any way involved with the affair. He was sent to the Tegel Prison in Berlin. While in prison, he secretly celebrated Mass and wrote letters and spiritual treatises, which were smuggled out of the prison before his trial. On December 8, 1944, Delp received a visitor from the Jesuit province who received his final vows to the Jesuit Order. Of course, this was forbidden, but the attending policemen did not understand what was going on. Delp wrote on the same day, "It was too much, what a fulfillment, I prayed for it so much, I gave my life away. My chains are now without any meaning, because God found me worthy of the chains of love."

He was tried and sentenced to death by hanging for treason. Before his death he wrote, "Someday, others shall be able to live better and happier lives because we died." While he was in prison, the Gestapo offered Delp his freedom in return for his departure from the Jesuits, but he rejected it. "In half an hour, I'll know more than you do." These were his last words. He whispered them jokingly to the Prison Chaplain Fr. Peter

Buchholz, who ministered to him at his execution. The sentence was carried out on February 2, 1945 in Berlin. Delp's meditations were collected in a book entitled, In the Face of Death, published in 1956. Fr. Delp wrote:

"Humanity is nothing without God. Sometimes, we are tempted to declare that humanity is nothing at all. But this is because comparatively few people have the good fortune to meet a real human being. After all, no one is above the law of transgression—without your grace. We have all taken the wrong road, and our empirical experience of humanity has demonstrated little but weakness, incapacity and extreme helplessness. Our yearning to excel, our desire to achieve and accomplish things that indicate our shortcomings are not fundamental but are a superficial effect. Our dissatisfaction with the conditions of our earthly existence is deep-seated and constantly impels us to venture to try to improve our way of life."

"We have it in us to conceive high ideals and work for their realization but if we are honest we will recognize the fact that we can do nothing on our own. Left to ourselves we are incomplete, not quite human. God is part of the definition of a human; inner unity with God is the primary condition for a fulfilled and successful life. The decision to recognize this is the greatest that we can make and the only one that will rescue us from the chaos in which we are involved. About turn—back to the beginning—that is the only solution and the way to achieve life's fulfillment."

God Bless You!

Fr. Eric

Lenten Regulations:

1. Lent is a special season of prayer, penance and Christian charity.
2. Ash Wednesday and Good Friday are days of abstinence from meat as well as fasting, allowing only one full meal. A special dispensation for abstinence has been given for Friday, March 17th in honor of St. Patrick's Day.
3. The other Fridays of Lent are also days of abstinence from meat. The obligation of fasting on Ash Wednesday and Good Friday obliges all Catholics ages 21-59. The obligation of abstinence obliges all Catholics from age 14 onward. Those whose health would be impaired are excused from physical mortifications.
