NOTE FROM THE PASTOR:

Dear Parishioners:

Happy Easter! Pope Francis said something at his Mass on April 2, 2017 that is certainly applicable to today's celebration of the Resurrection of Jesus Christ, the Lord. The Holy Father said that each of us carries some kind of tomb inside our heart, either from sin or suffering. We can stay bogged down in misery, focusing only on ourselves, or we can allow the risen Jesus to come into that place and heal it.

"In front of the big 'why' of life we have two paths," the Pope said, "to stay and gloomily watch the tombs of yesterday and of today, or to bring Jesus to our tombs. Each of us has a small tomb, some area that is a little bit dead inside the heart: a wound, an injury suffered or done to us, a bitterness that does not let up, remorse that returns, a sin that you cannot overcome. We identify these today, our little tombs we have inside and invite Jesus there," he said.

"Often," the Pope said, "We can be tempted to hide our weaknesses and sins from God, and remain fixated on them. We are tempted to always look to ourselves, brooding and sinking in anguish, licking our wounds, rather than going to Him, who says, Come to me you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest. It's strange, but often we prefer to be alone in the dark caves that we have inside. Instead, invite Jesus."

The Pontiff referred to the miracle of the raising of Lazarus from the dead. He said,

"Even Jesus is shaken by the dramatic mystery of the loss of a loved one. But in the midst of this suffering, He also shows us how to act. Despite suffering Himself, Jesus was not carried away by anxiety. Jesus didn't try to escape the suffering, but He also didn't get bogged down in pessimism or gloom.

Instead, he brings hope, proclaiming: I am the resurrection and the life; he that believes in Me, though he die, shall live. So He says: Take away the stone and to Lazarus He shouts loudly: Come out! This is what Jesus also says to us: "Get up, get up! It doesn't matter how heavy our past sins, shame or hurt may be. With Christ's grace, we can roll away the stone that is keeping Him from our hearts.

That is good advice, no? Roll away the stone. I couldn't agree more with Pope Francis.

God Bless You!

Father Eric
