THE 30TH SUNDAY OF ORDINARY TIME

OPENING HYMN: TABLE OF PLENTY

COME TO THE FEAST OF HEAVEN AND
EARTH! COME TO THE TABLE OF PLENTY!
GOD WILL PROVIDE FOR ALL THAT WE NEED
HERE AT THE TABLE OF PLENTY!

O COME AND SIT AT MY TABLE WHERE SAINTS AND SINNERS ARE FRIENDS, I WAIT
TO WELCOME THE LOST AND THE LONELY TO SHARE THE CUP OF MY LOVE.
COME TO THE FEAST OF HEAVEN AND
EARTH! COME TO THE TABLE OF PLENTY!
GOD WILL PROVIDE FOR ALL THAT WE NEED
HERE AT THE TABLE OF PLENTY!

GLORIA

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to people of good will. We praise you, we bless you, we adore you, we glorify you, we give you thanks for your great glory, Lord God, heavenly King, O God, Almighty Father.

Lord Jesus Christ, Only Begotten Son, Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us; you take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer; you are seated at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us.

For you alone are the Holy One, you alone are the Lord, you alone are the Most High, Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit, in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

READING 1 JER 31:7-9.

Thus says the LORD: Shout with joy for Jacob, exult at the head of the nations; proclaim your praise and say: The LORD has delivered his people, the remnant of Israel. Behold, I will bring them back from the land of the north; I will gather them from the ends of the world, with the blind and the lame in their midst, the mothers and those with child; they shall return as an immense throng. They departed in tears, but I will console them and guide them; I will lead them to brooks of water, on a level road, so that none shall stumble. For I am a father to Israel, Ephraim is my first-born.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM PS 126: 1-2, 2-3, 4-5, 6.

When the LORD brought back the captives of Zion, we were like men dreaming. Then our mouth was filled with laughter, and our tongue with rejoicing.

R. The Lord has done great things for us; we are filled with joy.

Then they said among the nations, "The LORD has done great things for them." The LORD has done great things for us; we are glad indeed.

R. The Lord has done great things for us; we are filled with joy.

Restore our fortunes, O LORD, like the torrents in the southern desert. Those that sow in tears shall reap rejoicing.

R. The Lord has done great things for us; we are filled with joy.

Although they go forth weeping, carrying the seed to be sown, They shall come back rejoicing, carrying their sheaves.

R. The Lord has done great things for us; we are filled with joy.

READING 2 HEB 5:1-6.

Brothers and sisters: Every high priest is taken from among men and made their representative before God, to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins. He is able to deal patiently with the ignorant and erring, for he himself is beset by weakness and so, for this reason, must make sin offerings for himself as well as for the people. No one takes this honor upon himself but only when called by God, just as Aaron was. In the same way, it was not Christ who glorified himself in becoming high priest, but rather the one who said to him: You are my son: this day I have begotten you; just as he says in another place: You are a priest forever according to the order of Melchizedek.

ALLELUIA

2 TM 1:10.

Our Savior Jesus Christ destroyed death and brought life to light through the Gospel.

GOSPEL

MK 10: 46-52.

As Jesus was leaving Jericho with his disciples and a sizable crowd, Bartimaeus, a blind man, the son of Timaeus, sat by the roadside begging. On hearing that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out and say, "Jesus, son of David, have pity on me." And many rebuked him, telling him to be silent. But he kept calling out all the more, "Son of David, have pity on me." Jesus stopped and said, "Call him." So they called the blind man, saying to him, "Take courage; get up, Jesus is calling you." He threw aside his cloak, sprang up, and came to Jesus. Jesus said to him in reply, "What do you want me to do for you?" The blind man replied to him, "Master, I want to see." Jesus told him, "Go your way; your faith has saved you." Immediately he received his sight and followed him on the way.

Profession of Faith

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through Him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation He came down from Heaven (BOW) and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man.

For our sake He was crucified under Pontius Pilate, He suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into Heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and His kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

CLOSING HYMN: HAIL HOLY QUEEN.

HAIL HOLY QUEEN ENTHRONED ABOVE,
O, MARIA!

HAIL MOTHER OF MERCY AND OF LOVE,
O, MARIA!

TRIUMPH ALL YE CHERUBIM,
SING WITH US, YE SERAPHIM,
HEAVEN & EARTH RESOUND THE HYMN
SALVE, SALVE, SALVE REGINA!

OUR LIFE, OUR SWEETNESS, HERE BELOW
O, MARIA!

OUR HOPE IN SORROW AND IN WOE,
O, MARIA!

TRIUMPH ALL YE CHERUBIM,
SING WITH US, YE SERAPHIM,
HEAVEN & EARTH RESOUND THE HYMN
SALVE, SALVE, SALVE REGINA!

A Note from The Pastor

Dear Parishioners,

One night, St. John Bosco (1815-1888) was awakened by his Guardian Angel, who said to him, "Get up and follow me!" Don Bosco complied. He had no idea that his celestial protector was taking him on a tour of Hell. To his horror he saw the punishment to be meted out to the youth of his day who were led astray.

The Saint said, "I was staring in bewilderment around me when a lad dashed out of a gate. Seemingly unaware of anything else, he emitted a most shrilling scream, like one who is about to fall into a cauldron of liquid bronze, and plummeted into the center of the cave. Instantly, he became incandescent and perfectly motionless, while the echo of his dying wail lingered for an instant more. As I looked again, another boy came hurtling down into the cave at break-neck speed. As he fell, so he remained. He too emitted one single heartrending shriek that blended with the last echo of the scream that had come from the youth who had preceded him. Other boys kept hurtling in the same way in increasing numbers, all screaming the same way and then all becoming equally motionless and incandescent."

"I noticed that the first seemed frozen to the spot, one hand and one foot raised into the air; the second boy seemed bent almost double to the floor. Others stood or hung in various other positions, balancing themselves on one foot or hand, sitting or lying on their backs or on their sides, standing or kneeling, hands clutching their hair. Briefly, the scene resembled a large statuary group of youngsters cast into ever more painful postures. I then recalled what is written in the Bible to the effect that as one falls into Hell, so he shall forever remain. Where the tree falls, there it shall lie. (Ecclesiastes 11:3)."

Bosco added, "More frightened than ever, I asked my guide: 'When these boys come dashing into this cave, don't they know where they are going?' 'They surely do,' he answered. 'They have been warned a thousand times, but they still choose to rush into the fire, because they do not detest sin and are loath to forsake it. Furthermore, they despise and reject God's constant, merciful invitations to do penance.' I took a few steps forward and saw that many of those poor wretches were savagely striking at each other like mad dogs. Others were clawing their own faces and hands, tearing their own flesh and spitefully throwing it about. Just then the entire ceiling of the cave became as transparent as crystal and revealed a patch of Heaven and their radiant companions safe for all eternity. The poor wretches, fuming and panting with envy, burned with rage because they had once ridiculed the just. The wicked shall see and shall be angry. He shall gnash his teeth and pine away. (Psalm 111:10)."

"'Why do I hear no sound?' I asked my guide. 'Go closer!' he advised. Pressing my ear to the crystal window, I heard screams and sobs, blasphemies and imprecations against the Saints. It was a tumult of voices and cries, shrill and confused. 'When they recall the happy lot of their good companions,' he replied, 'they are obliged to admit: Fools that we were! Their lives were deemed madness and their deaths dishonored. See how they are accounted among the sons of God. Their lot is with the Saints. We, then, have strayed from the way of the truth. (Wisdom 5:4-5). Such are the mournful chants which shall echo here throughout eternity.'" When Don Bosco asked how these young people were led astray, he was informed: "Bad companions, bad books, and bad habits are mainly responsible for so many eternally lost."

At the end of this harrowing journey, the Angel said to the Saint, "Now that you have seen what others suffer, you too must experience a touch of Hell." "No, no!" he cried in terror. "Do not be afraid," he told Bosco. "Just try it. Touch this wall." Don Bosco explained, "I could not muster enough courage and tried to get away, but he held me back. 'Try it,' he insisted. 'Only one touch so that you may say you have both seen and touched the walls of eternal suffering and that you may understand what the last wall must be like if the first is so unendurable. Look at this wall!' It was awesomely thick. 'There are a thousand walls between this and the real fire of Hell,' said the Angel. 'A thousand walls encompass it, each a thousand measures thick and equally distant from the next one. Each measure is a thousand miles. This wall therefore is millions and millions of miles from Hell's real fire. It is just a remote rim of Hell itself.'"

Don Bosco concluded, "When he said this, I instinctively pulled back, but he seized my hand, forced it open, and pressed it against the first of the thousand walls. The sensation was so utterly excruciating that I leaped back with a scream and found myself sitting up in bed. My hand was stinging and I kept rubbing it to ease the pain. When I got up this morning, I noticed that it was swollen. Having my hand pressed against the wall, though only in a dream, felt so real that, later, the skin of my palm peeled off."
